- Cut a piece of duct tape to the size of the wart and apply to the affected area
- Remove the tape after 6 days , then soak the wart in water
- Use a pumice stone or emery board to rub away soft callus
- Leave tape off overnight, then re-apply the following morning for 6 days
- If the tape falls off prematurely, re-apply a new piece
- Continue the treatment for up to two months
- If there is no improvement after one month of treatment, consider discussing cryotherapy with your doctor
